Snapchat:

- Joe Martin Stage Race will be having a geofilter on Snapchat during the days of the event
 - This means when you take a photo/video on Snapchat during race weekend, and you are within the vicinity of the race, you can swipe right on your picture/video until a logo of JMSR pops up at the bottom of your image. See image below.
 - If you have Snapchat, make sure to post videos and images during the race and share them on your story so they are live for 24 hours using the geofilter
 - To add a photo/video to your story, take a photo and click the square with a plus sign at the bottom left
 - Snapchat stories are the same concept as Instagram stories
- Joe Martin will not have its own Snapchat handle to follow

Instagram:

- Name: joemartinstagepace
- In order to follow please search for joemartinstagepace in the explore area of Instagram (at bottom of app with magnifying glass icon)
- Our profile picture is our logo of the cyclist - Click on profile and click follow at the top
- Please “like” (by double tapping on the picture) and “comment” (by clicking the comment button) on pictures in order for the pictures to be seen by others
- Instagram stories – You can view Instagram stories at the top of your Instagram feed
 - Stories are images or videos that the people you follow post, and these images/videos remain live for 24 hours. You can see them by clicking their circular profile picture at the top of your feed
 - If you are at the JMSR – Share a post of the race or share pictures/videos on your story by clicking the top left button of your profile picture with a blue plus sign
- To post your own photos (not 24 hour stories) to share with everyone on your Instagram feed, simply click the square with the plus sign at the bottom of your app and upload
